OUTDOOR LIFE. Will Not Offset the III Effects of Coffee and Tea When One Cannot Digest Them.

A farmer says:

"For ten years or more I suffered from dyspensia and stomach trouble, caused by the use of coffee (Tea contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee), until I got so bad I had to give up coffee entirely and almost give up eating. There were times when I could eat only boiled milk and bread; and when I went to the field to work I had to take some bread and butter along to give me strength.

"I doctored steady and took almost everything I could get for my stomach in the way of medicine, but if I got any better it only lasted a little while I was almost a walking skeleton.

"One day I read an ad for Postum and told my wife I would try it, and as to the following facts I will make affidavit before any judge:

"I quit coffee entirely and used Postum in its place. I have regained my health entirely and can eat anything that is cooked to eat. I have increased in weight until now I weigh more than I ever did. I have not taken any medicine for my stomach since I began using Postum.

"My family would stick to coffee at first, but they saw the effects it had on me and when they were feeling bad they began to use Postum, one at a time, until now we all use Postum.' Name given by Postum Co., Battle

A Grist Mill For Florence.

There is to be opened soon in Florence, if negotiations do not fail, a big meal and grist mill, which will have a capacity of 1,000 bushels a day. The promoter is an experienced mill man and he wants to come to the county that beats the world's record on corn. Local capitalists have agreed to put up the building necessary. Vigorously Wage Campaign.

The campaign to raise $100,000 for Converse College, launched at Spartanburg several days ago, has been waged vigorously and at the meeting of the commission at the Y. M. C. A. hall reports were made showing $59,-325.28 subscribed. The campaign will continue for five days longer. Upon condition that $100,000 be raised locally the general education board of New York has offered to give the college $50,000.

Politics in Hamton County.

So far not very much is being said about the political situation in Hamton county, but judging from the number of candidates already announced fo rthe various offices the campaign promises some interesting develovements. For auditor there are three candidates, for treasurer one, for clerk of court three, for supervisor three, for superintendent of education two, of representatives three (one to be elected). Every official except the treasurer has opposition.

County Commissioners Meet.

The board of Beaufort county commissioners met in their office, at the court house, and proceeded to start the wheels of their department to turning again, after a five months' tie up. Besides the supervisor there were O. Crosby, Hardeeville; J. B. Simmons, luffton. The weather was stormy ad others did not arrive until the ext day, when Edgar Fripp, Saint felena, and Israel Keyserling, Kean's Neck, were present, the only absent member being Dr. E. F. Wilder.

Cases Heard in Florence. The hearing in the cases of Harry McIntosh and John Williams, charged with the murder of Andrew Jackson, postponed in court for several days that their attorneys might have a conference with them. The case of the state against John McGee for murder was heard and he was acquitted. It seems that the negro he killed. Charlie Jennings, was a stranger and he broke into the hot supper and wanted to take charge by virture of a big pistol that he carried, and McGee just got the drop on him first.

Spartanburg Magistrate-There is Much Interest Shown. COLUMBIA.

Columbia.-Arguments on the Spartanburg magistrate situation and the proceedings brought to oust B. J. Rhame as state bank examiner were heard by an en banc session of the supreme court. There were present at the hearing Chief Justice Gary, Associate Justices Woods, Hydrick, Watts and Fraser, and Circuit Judges Rice, Wilson, Spain, Gage, Sease, Prince, DeVore and F. B. Gary.

The first case argued was that of the State of South Carolina against J. M. Bowden and other magistrates appointed by the governor in Spartanburg county and those confirmed by the senate. The state was represented by M. P. DeBruhl, the assistant atrepresented by C. P. Sanders of Spartanburg. This case was argued before the supreme court several weeks ago, and a decision was recently

LESSON FOR JUNE 30

REVIEW OF SECOND QUARTER.

GOLDEN TEXT-"I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill."-Matt. 5:17.

The lessons for this quarter be long for the most part to the year 28, known as the year of popularity. Beginning with the great Easter lesson there is set forth the fact, certainty, and meaning of the resurrection of our Lord, by which was demonstrated his fulfilling of the purpose of God both in his own life and in his work upon the cross whereby was made possible the establishment of the new kingdom. Several of these lessons are taken from his manifests to show us the application of the law which he came to fill full with a newer and richer meaning. Speaking of the ideal Sabbath as contrasted with that presented by the religious teachers of the day, Jesus uses the illustration of healing and also the plucking of grain to show us that man is of more value than the ceremonial observance of the law. Jesus proceeds in the third lesson to choose and set apart those who shall share with him in the establishing of this new kingdom. This was the fulfilling of a purpose wherein the Jews had failed-Jesus called these men to have fellowship with him in fruit bearing.

In the fourth lesson Jesus depicts the character necessary for those who shall share with him in the fulfilling of God's purposes in this kingdom. The blessings of poverty and the danger of riches form the subject matter of the fifth lesson wherein we are taught a full revelation concerning life and its true substance. He who had not where to lay his head and whose "estate" when he left this world was the object of the rude soldiers' flippant gamble tells us that like him if we would be great in this kingdom we too must lay up riches not on earth but in heaven.

Key to Situation, The sixth lesson has to do with love as the secret of the fulfillment of all that is required, of all that has been already stated, or that may hereafter arise. In this lesson by a set of skilful questions Jesus asks and answers the fundamental princidoes he build and so high does he reach that we are compelled to exclaim, "Who is sufficient." And so it is that the seventh lesson logically follows the sixth, for in this we find the key to the whole situation. Beginning with the verse that forms the golden text for today, Jesus goes on to show us that what is impossible with man is possible with God. That while the law is immutable and its penalties therefore still in force, that he. Jesus, is the one and only one who keeps the law outwardly and at the well; hence we have in him and his this new kingdom. In him we have sufficient power.

The eighth lesson still further carries out this teaching by showing us the fact that in the constant consciousness of God there lies power that will enable men, independent of oaths, in simple truth to fulfill all the requirements of truth.

The ninth lesson is one of the practical applications of these principles which Jesus has been setting forth. The ancient high priest with the bells and pomegranates upon his garment carried as much fruit as noise into the holy place. So Jesus, this new high priest teaches us that though we are justified in the sight of God by our faith we demonstrate that faith in the sight of men by our actions toward those about us.

If we are truly and properly spirit ually related to him our alms and prayers and fasting will not be for the purpose of attracting the attention of men but each disciple will be as his master who sought only to glorify the Father. This is the man who builds upon solid ground and whose house stands amid the breaking storm rather than the one whose house not so founded goes to pieces amid the storm. This is the tenth lesson.

Dominant Notes,

Following these lessons upon the kingdom Jesus is shown in the eleventh lesson as depicting John the Baptist's place and significance as the forerunner of himself and because of that position as being the exalted among those born of women yet he who in humbleness is little shall be greater even than John. John represented the end of the old and Jesus the beginning of the new.

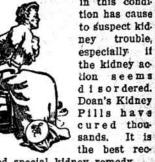

The last lesson affords us a significant view, a radiant revelation, of the compassion and at the same time the mercilessly keen discernment of Jesus. His dealing with her who gave her best as contrasted with Simon who from his abundance gave only discourtesy and friendless criticism, teaches us what should be the real heart motive of our lives. He who came to break the shell of self complacency glorified the act of the sinful woman who in contrition broke her alabaster box at his feet; he who loving much could forgive much.

There are two or three notes that are dominant throughout the lessons of this quarter. He, Jesus, who is the light, not only sets up high standards but at the same time shows men the path of attainment. Again in all of his work there is a perfect co-operation of the son with the Father in the carrying out of the beneficent work of this new kingdom, teaching us that we in like manner must be followers, workers together, with him.

Though the old is set aside it is not set down, but contrariwise it is raised higher, and in its fulfillment has ever raised men higher and neares
